Forecast For Northwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Tuesday 21 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Overnight frost, then increasing cloud through Wednesday, with rain later.

This Evening and Tonight:
Clear spells beginning to develop through this evening, but more so overnight. Temperatures widely falling to freezing or just below, with a frost for most and a few isolated mist or fog patches forming too. Minimum temperature -4 deg C (25 deg F).

Wednesday:
Any mist and fog soon clearing, leaving a largely bright morning. Becoming cloudy during the afternoon with a chance of rain by dark. Turning breezier and feeling cold. Maximum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Milder with rain at times and rather murky on Thursday and Christmas Eve. Turning colder on Christmas Day with a chance of snow over the hills later. Breezy at times.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.